*Where life has room to breathe.
and value has room to grow.*

South Bengaluru's appeal is increasingly about the combination it offers: city connectivity without giving up openness, established social infrastructure alongside greener surroundings, and a lifestyle that places education, wellness, recreation and weekend experiences within the same larger ecosystem.

The Kanakapura Road corridor already benefits from the operational Green Line up to Silk Institute and connectivity through NICE Road. Around Somanahalli, the lifestyle becomes distinctly more open, with destinations such as the Art of Living International Center at Udayapura, Prani in Somanahalli itself, and leisure experiences around Kaggalipura adding a different dimension to everyday living.

Somanahalli is among the Kanakapura Road locations being evaluated for Bengaluru's proposed second international airport. A detailed feasibility study is underway; as of September 2026.

Meanwhile, the Karnataka Cabinet has approved the Greater Bengaluru Integrated Township (GBIT) at Bidadi: a proposed 7,481-acre, ₹18,133-crore integrated urban development envisioned as a work-live-play destination and a second major business centre for the region.
